

MODERN LUXURY SPOTLIGHT

INNOVATORS in AESTHETICS & BEAUTY

BUCKY PLASTIC SURGERY & BUCKY BODY CENTER

Bucky Plastic Surgery is one of the leading plastic surgery centers in the country, with 4 offices across Philadelphia and the Main Line. Working alongside Dr. Bucky is a team of five nurse injectors who have created their own incubator for innovation. Collectively, they have over 60 years' worth of experience in the aesthetic industry and some of them have been working with Dr. Bucky for over 20 years!

Innovation requires a deep understanding of the field and patient needs, and as consultants and key opinion leaders for different brands, the nurse injectors at Bucky Plastic Surgery are able to share ideas and combine technologies for unique results that patients love.

Known for their natural-looking results, the nurse injectors are currently excited about the advent of new technologies that allow for subtle treatments with big impact. "We're understanding the aging process better and achieving more sophisticated results through advancements in evaluation techniques (like 3D imaging), regenerative injectables (like Sculptra, Radiesse, and micro-fat) and skincare treatments (like stem cells and exosomes with lasers or microneedling). The patient will feel and see a significant change that's undetectable to others," the collective explained.

They have also noticed a shift in the industry since the pandemic, with more patients hoping to avoid extended downtime after a procedure. Thanks to their excellent techniques and first-to-market technologies, the team at Bucky Plastic Surgery is able to deliver top notch results with minimized downtime. They are also experts in some of the biggest trending treatments, like the newest wrinkle and line-reducing injectables, and always create a custom blend that works for each patient and their unique needs—no matter their age.

After 25 years in the industry and recognizing the importance of post-procedure care, Dr. Bucky recently opened the Bucky Body Center as a dedicated active recovery facility for Bucky Plastic Surgery clients, right off of Rittenhouse Square. "We utilize the most cutting-edge services for patients to heal from surgical and non-surgical procedures, all under one roof. We will minimize inflammation, redness, soreness, scarring, and more, so that you're looking and feeling your best faster than ever before or anywhere else."
